Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 30 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Sunny spells and feeling warm on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Sunny spells continuing into the evening with any daytime showers easing. During the night low cloud develops in the west and along the Bristol Channel with clear spells elsewhere. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Thursday:
Low cloud and some drizzle in the west, with sunny spells elsewhere. Sunny spells becoming more widespread into afternoon with perhaps a shower. Feeling locally very warm in the east. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
A fine start but turning cloudy through Friday with showers later. Cloudy with locally heavy and thundery showers on Saturday. Heavy showers and spells of rain on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.